TODAY'S GAME NOTES ...

Riding an eight game winning streak, and 14 of their last 15, Messiah starts the Commonwealth playoffs with a tough test in Widener University ... After dropping an 83-77 overtime loss at Widener on Dec. 4, Messiah was able to humble the Pride in Brubaker Auditorium Jan. 29, thanks in part to sophomore Dori Gyori and senior Michele Schleich, who combined for 25 points and 18 rebounds ... and down the stretch, freshman Taylor Miller hit three key free throws with 22 seconds left to give the Falcons a one-point lead in the winding seconds of the game ... Messiah controlled the second half of the game in January, outscoring Widener 35-22 and grabbing 10 offensive rebounds ... on Tuesday, the Commonwealth Conference named Gyori and Schleich First- and Second-Team performers, respectively ... Widener, meanwhile, comes into tonight's semi-final with a four-game winning streak in tact ... Widener was honored with having the best backcourt in the league, with First Team All-Commonwealth sophomore guards Lil Carney and Kate Dellinger, who combine for 27.7 points, 12.1 rebounds, and 8.3 assists per game ... tonight marks the fourth consecutive season Messiah and Widener have met in the Commonwealth Conference Semi-Finals ... the Falcons are 2-1 in those contests.

Michele Schleich and Messiah will once again hook up with Kate Dellinger and Widener in the post-season.
