

Maggie Arnold (QiaoQi Jiang) is originally from Fuzhou, China and is majoring in Mathematics. She also has minors in Statistics, Business Administration, and Accounting. Besides this heavy academic load, Maggie also has a heart for Student Government! She was Student Faculty Committee Representative, Vice President of Finance, Student Representative for College Presidential Search Committee, and now the Student Body President. Maggie received numerous awards for her astounding accomplishments: Best 50 Women in Business Scholarship Recipient (2004-2005), Outstanding Sophomore of the Year (2004-2005), Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges, Sigma Zeta National Honor Society. Maggie would like to go on to graduate school and eventually earn a PhD.

Micalagh Beckwith, from Montclair, NJ, is a Human Development and Family Science major and French minor. She recently spent a semester in France with Brethren Colleges Abroad, learning more of the language and culture, participating in the French version of Intervarsity Fellowship, and teaching ESL to high school students. She is currently a Resident Assistant in Witmer, as well as a Smith scholar intern. In November, she will be working with a professor to present a scholarly paper on cross-cultural experience and family science at the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR) annual conference. She is involved with the Agape Center outreach teams, as well as World Christian Fellowship. Micalagh is undecided about what the future holds after graduation, but she is excited about the many possibilities ahead.

Philip Bess is a History major with a concentration in classical studies and a minor in Philosophy. He spent a semester studying abroad at the University of Oxford in England and now works at the Learning Center tutoring Latin. He is active in the Outdoors Club, History Club, and the Messiah Chapter of the history honors society, Phi Alpha Theta. He has held such diverse jobs as: deckhand on a schooner, sternman on a lobster boat, and resident assistant in Miller dorm. Philip enjoys playing card games in the Student Union. He is interested in pursuing graduate studies in philosophy and becoming a teacher. Philip is from Waldoboro, ME.

Justin Bollinger is from Myerstown, PA, and is majoring in History with a minor in Politics. He is a member of the Men's Track & Field team, and is Co-President of the Messiah College History Club. Justin spent a semester abroad studying in Athens, Greece. In the community he has volunteered with the Bethesda Mission and Catholic Worker House. On campus he has been involved in the Host program and Life Group. Currently, he is working on a Departmental Honors project focusing on the "Christian Nation" idea, and the perception of America's founding as a uniquely Christian event. A paper and presentation will conclude this project at the end of the spring semester. After graduating, Justin would like to pursue a Law degree.

Kirsten Brooks is a Theatre and Spanish major from Midland, MI. She has been highly involved in the Department of Theatre while at Messiah, appearing in productions including "As You Like It" and "1984," and serving in off-stage positions including Assistant Director and Educational Outreach Coordinator for "Our Town." She has also been involved in the Convergencia educational traveling theatre project, and is currently the president of Alpha Psi Omega, the National Theatre Honor Society. During her time at Messiah Kirsten has served as a Peer Group Leader, and she has studied in Dublin, Philadelphia, Barcelona, and Prague. After graduation, she hopes to spend a term in the Peace Corps and to pursue graduate studies in peace and social justice issues through Theatre for Social Change.

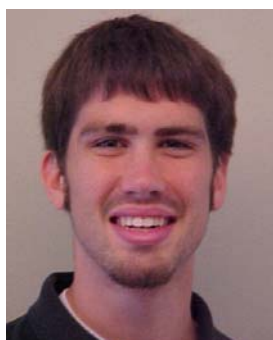

Elizabeth Cook is a Sport and Exercise Science major with a concentration in Pre-Physical Therapy. Currently she is a second semester senior planning on attending graduate school in July 2006 to earn her Doctorate of Physical Therapy (DPT). Following graduate school, Elizabeth hopes to enter a professional career as a physical therapist, using this opportunity to help people and further Christ's kingdom. Throughout her years at Messiah, Elizabeth has played Women's Basketball and is currently serving as a captain on the team. In addition, she has been a member of the planning committee for the Area M Special Olympics, held at Messiah each spring. As the Volunteer Registration Coordinator, it has been her responsibility to recruit and train over a thousand volunteers from the college community to help this day run smoothly. Elizabeth is from Wilmington, Delaware.

Danina Garcia is a double major in English Education and French. Among her several activities, she is happiest about her four-year involvement with Messiah's chapter of International Justice Mission, her semester in Strasbourg, France, and her work this past summer serving displaced families through BuildaBridge International. She is deeply honored and humbled to be the recipient of the 2005 Ernest L. Boyer Teacher Scholarship. After graduation she hopes to return to her hometown of Philadelphia, PA to teach high school English and French, though she would also like to spend time working with a domestic or international non-profit organization, pursue graduate studies in English and French, and maybe even take a nap.

Merrylee Grosso is a Nursing major from Landisburg, PA. She spent two semesters abroad, one with the CASAS program in Guatemala, and another with CCSP in Belize. She spent two months this past summer gathering material for her Honors Project on Rural Community Development while living and serving in a rural indigenous Guatemalan community. Between working as Publications Manager at The Clarion and as a patient care assistant and Nurse Apprentice at Holy Spirit Hospital, Merrylee is highly involved in the youth outreach at a very small bilingual BIC church in York Springs. She has a passion for outreach to the Latin American population and hopes to continue this in Philadelphia as she works at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and studies to become a Certified Nurse Midwife and Nurse Practitioner. After completing graduate school, Merrylee sees herself serving full time in Central America.

Brian Hamilton grew up in Harrisonburg, Virginia and still belongs to Harrisonburg Mennonite Church. It is this congregation's training that has compelled him to pursue a major in Peace and Conflict Studies, striving to work out the theological ethical implications of making a home in the Mennonite tradition. For now, Brian anticipates continued theological study in seminary. At the same time, community life and economic sharing occupy a growing role in his exploration of Christian discipleship, and new possibilities for the future are emerging. Brian prays that the Spirit will direct his path in ways that offer prophetic challenge to our churches—and more, for the grace of continuous transformation into the likeness of Christ.

Katelynn Hansen is an International Business major from Grantsburg, Wisconsin. She is a founding member and Vice President of the Investment Club, the Secretary of SIFE (Students in Free Enterprise), a member of the Honor's Program, and a diplomat for the Business Department. While at Messiah, she traveled to Costa Rica for a semester abroad and studied the Latin American culture, language and business practices. She also spent a summer in Europe with the International Business Institute traveling through 11 countries while studying the different business cultures and the international economic system. Her passion lies in economic development in lesser developed countries. She plans to pursue a job in international marketing or consulting as well as attend graduate school for International Relations.

Amanda Heim is a Music Education major with a concentration in Saxophone. She has participated in JazzONE, Symphonic Winds, Pit Orchestra, Messiah College Singers, Concert Choir, Chamber Singers, New Light, and she is the principal saxophonist in both the Wind Ensemble and Saxophone Quartet. Amanda is a member of the Worship Community and Music Educators' National Association, and she co-hosts a radio show at WVMM featuring Messiah College recordings. Following graduation, Amanda plans to pursue a graduate degree in Saxophone Performance and hopes to teach music at the collegiate level in the future. Amanda is from Pavilion, New York.

Sarah Hibshman is a Social Work major from Myerstown, PA. She is the captain of the Women's Soccer team. Sarah is a member of the Social Work Club and the Secretary/Treasurer of Phi Alpha, the Social Work Honor Society. During her time at Messiah, she has been a member of the Student Athletic Advisory Committee, volunteered at Messiah Village and volunteered at the Catholic Worker House. She has interned at Goodwill Industries and the YWCA Legal Clinic. Sarah is planning to do an internship with Cumberland Country Children and Youth in the spring. She is also planning to attend Graduate School at the University of Maryland to receive her MSW next fall.

Brendan Hopper is a Studio Art major with a concentration in photography. He is the Photography Editor for the school yearbook, The Clarion, a position he has held for three consecutive years. Brendan is also an instructor with the swing dance club. In the future, he hopes to communicate the importance and necessity of the visual arts in everyday life and as a reflection of God, the source of all creativity, through teaching. Brendan is from Burnt Hills, NY.

Kelly Jones, from Danville, PA, is a Nutrition and Dietetics major with a minor in Christian Missions. She is currently the President of the campus nutrition club (SNAC) and is Vice-President for Nutrition and Dietetics of Sigma Zeta, the local chapter of the National Honor Society for science and mathematics students. Kelly interns at her local WIC office over the summer and is currently completing a research project regarding media influences on the breastfeeding decision. She hopes to present her findings to the Family Health Council of Central, PA and other professional organizations. Kelly plans on attending graduate school for Public Health or Food and Nutrition Policy, both of which would enable her to combine nutrition with missions work.

Alina Kline is a commuter from Dover, PA. She teaches Sunday school at her home church and enjoys mentoring children in her free time. A politics major, she plans on attending law school when she graduates. She is interested in Constitutional law and hopes to become an attorney. Alina is currently the chairperson of her local school board's political action committee. She is very involved in her local government. In the fall semester, she is interning with a non-partisan Christian organization in Harrisburg to preserve family values in Pennsylvania. As an attorney, Alina wants to defend Christian liberties in America as well as work to regain the moral values that have been lost in this nation.

Jane Lanphear is a Senior Health and Physical Education major from Rochester, NY. She is an officer of Pi Phi Epsilon, the Messiah College Health and Human Performance Club. Jane was recently awarded the Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. Jane loves music—she is in the Messiah College Jazz Singers and participates often in the chapel worship leadership teams. After Messiah, she hopes to pursue a teaching career in health and/or physical education at the high school or elementary level. Jane aspires to go into graduate school for cardiac rehabilitation after a few years of teaching.

Ginger Little is a Human Development and Family Science major from Newville, PA. While at Messiah, Ginger has also completed a minor in Biology and a concentration in Chemistry. Ginger has served on the Peer Review Board, as both a voting member and the chair of the board. Additionally, she has been very active with Student Programs, serving as a Peer Group Leader and Peer Leader Coordinator for four years. Ginger has held a variety of campus jobs, including research assistant to Dr. Raeann Hamon and laboratory assistant for the Chemistry department for two years. Ginger is undecided of her plans after graduation, and will be taking some time off before pursuing a graduate studies program. Her career interests range from medicine to pastoral counseling.

Corinne Major is from Pottstown, PA and is a history major with a double concentration in American and Public History. She is spending her third consecutive semester at The National Civil War Museum in Harrisburg as an intern/Registrar of Collections. On campus she is the Artistic Director of the Acclamation Dance Ministry and is actively involved with I'm Worth Waiting For: Abstinence Education. Corinne also works on campus for her academic advisor and is a Smith Scholar Intern. After college, she would like to go on to graduate school for history in the heart of America's colonial history: Boston. Her goal is to eventually become a museum curator and living historian.

Hannah Meyer is an English major from Montclair, Virginia. As part of her coursework, she spent a year studying at Oxford University through the Scholars' Semester in Oxford program. The Sigma Tau Delta Review has recently selected two of her papers written in Oxford for publication, one of which will receive the Frederic Fadner Award for best overall critical essay. Hannah has volunteered her time at tutoring programs and homeless shelters in the US and abroad, and she recently interned for World Vision in Washington, D.C. Following graduation, she hopes to pursue a doctorate in English literature and to continue her involvement in social justice work.

Brian Richards is from Lake Bluff, Illinois, a town near Chicago. Throughout his time at Messiah, Brian has volunteered for Habitat for Humanity and the Harrisburg Hospital. He has also spent much of his college career involved with Young Life, a Christian group committed to outreach and the discipleship of high school students. In the summer of 2004, Brian worked as an intern for The Institute on Biotechnology and the Human Future, an organization addressing bioethical issues related to new technologies. Brian is a Biology major and considers medical school a strong possibility. Training as an EMT and participation in medical mission trips to Ecuador and the Dominican Republic have strengthened his love for service, especially in the international arena.

Emily Salvesen is majoring in Mathematics with a Teaching Certificate and pursuing a minor in Statistics. She is involved in the Hosts Program, is a student diplomat for the Mathematics Department, sings in Women's Ensemble, is a member of the Messiah College Education Association, and participates in the college Honors Program. After graduation, Emily wants to teach high school math and tutor students who need extra help in math. In the future, she hopes to attend graduate school for mathematics education. Emily is also considering the possibility of teaching abroad at an international school to experience the education systems in other cultures. She is from Flanders, New Jersey.

Ashleigh Smith is a nursing major from Southington, CT. She serves as the Diplomat for the Nursing Department, a tutor for the Learning Center, and the Editor-in-Chief of The Clarion, Messiah's yearbook. Ashleigh is a member of the College Honors Program and the Student Government Association Leadership Council. She is listed in Who's Who among American Colleges and Universities. Ashleigh enjoys playing the violin, and has exercised her gifts in the Symphony Orchestra, the College Worship Community, and the Pit Orchestra for musical productions. Her experiences studying abroad in Belize and performing research in Slovakia have increased her interest in the people and healthcare systems of international communities. After she graduates, Ashleigh plans to use her nursing degree to serve people in the name of Christ.

Abby Snyder is an Elementary Education major from Middletown Pennsylvania. She recently spent a semester at the Contemporary Music Center on Martha's Vineyard studying performance, studio recording, songwriting, the music industry, and how all of this relates to her faith in Christ. At Messiah, Abby is active in the Worship Community as a leader of Powerhouse. In addition, she is a member of MCEA and will complete her student teaching at South Mountain Elementary school during the spring semester. Abby hopes to one day integrate her love of music and of teaching into her elementary classroom.

Kelsey Spencer is a History Education major with a Psychology minor from Danville, PA. At Messiah, she has been involved with the Emerging Leaders Program, Abba's Place, Phi Alpha Theta (History Honors Society), the Education Leadership Seminar, the Diplomat Program, the Messiah College Education Association, and was an RA in Sollenberger Dormitory for two years. She is also a founding member of the History Club and is currently serving as Co-President. In the past, Kelsey has gone on two mission trips to China where she taught English to high school and college students. After graduation, Kelsey plans on getting her teaching certification and possibly teaching in another country.