Tina Prins, a graduate of Messiah College, was recently recognized by the Central Pennsylvania Business Journal as one of the top 40 business persons under the age of 40 for 2007.

Prins was recognized for her strong commitment to professional excellence and the surrounding community.

Prins is the president of Stratega Marketing, an advertising and marketing firm which she founded in January 2006.

Strategy focuses on bridging the communication divide between messages and audiences by using a variety of invocative marketing strategies.

Prins graduated from Messiah College in 1993 with a degree in Communication. Prins has been using her communication skills in the fields of public relations and marketing for the past 15 years.

Prins is a member of the Public Relations Society of America and International Association of Business Communicators.

Messiah College Grad Named “top 40 under 40” BY Becky DeRosa

LISTENING COMMUNICATES VOLUME

BY BETSY BUNT

I switched my major to communications two years ago because I knew I wanted to work with people. As a senior, I am still trying to figure out exactly what form that will take in my life.

Those who graduate with Communication degrees have an almost overwhelming amount of job opportunities. Communication majors at Messiah College will graduate equipped to enter into not only the working world, but also a world of people who are desperate to communicate with someone, anyone.

As Communication majors, we have the rare opportunity to study the intricacies of human communication and the best ways to reach people. Oftentimes, the simplest things in communication, such as taking the time to actively listen to another person, show the most love. The next time you are tempted to shout a “how are you” in passing, try to actually spend a few minutes in meaningful conversation. The giving of quality conversation, listening and time are some of the most precious gifts a person can give.

Whether you are currently in the career field or a student, remember that the importance of communication extends outside of the academic realm; it provides a way to commune and relate with others.
CALLING ALL FILM STUDENTS!

The American Trauma Society in Mechanicsburg, PA is seeking student volunteers from the film department to participate in the making of a trauma prevention promotional video. The video will include eight scenarios, two to three minutes in length, that depict children in emergency situations within the home. Anyone interested in this position should contact Krista Felty at (717) 766-1616 ext. 211.

OPPORTUNITIES

The Sentinel Newspaper 457 E. North Street Carlisle, PA
News-editorial internship: reporter/writer/clerk
Contact: Jen Platt at jplatt@cumberlink.com or 717-240-7117.
www.cumberlink.com

Grantham Brethren in Christ
Writing, editing, and marketing internship
Contact the Internship Center by Oct. 15th

Wormleysburg: Editing Internship
Digitize video footage, edit and design graphics
Contact the Internship Center by Oct. 15th

Experience Harrisburg: Internship and Job Fair
October 11, 2007 4:30 p.m. — 10:00 p.m.
Whitaker Center for Science and the Arts, Harrisburg
www.experienceharrisburg.com

Career & Grad School Expo: Messiah College
November 5, 2007 11:30 a.m. — 1:30 p.m.
Brubaker Auditorium

ALUMNI HIGHLIGHT

Danielle L. Burrows ‘02

Jennifer Wilson ‘05
recently promoted to media planner at MindShare in New York City.

Christopher Denton ‘06
a production assistant for WTXF-Fox 29, Philadelphia.

Laura Kropiewnicki ‘06
a facility sales assistant for NFL Films in Mr. Laurel, NJ.

Andrew McKechnie ‘07
recently hired in Philadelphia as a media assistant for MPG, Inc., a media planning and buying agency.

Did you know that the Communications department used the internship center more than any other department on campus last semester?

Out of 157 total student interns, 27 of them were from the Communication department. What a great way to gain knowledge and experience in the realm of communications!

“The relationship is the communication bridge between people.”
- Alfred Kadushin

Resources:
Are you graduating in December and still have no clue about what to do with your life? Visit the career center and experience the many ways that they can help you find a career that’s perfect for you!
messiah.edu/offices/careers