

	Superior Only minor unimportant errors that do not impede comprehension	Good Only one or two major errors that impede comprehension	Acceptable Several inappropriate or major errors that impede comprehension	Unacceptable Many serious errors; a native speaker would have great difficulty understanding	Incomprehensible Few correct elements. Comprehension difficult even for those used to dealing with non-native speakers
Pronunciation Sounds, stress, intonation. Judge comprehensibility and quantity of errors.	5	4	3	2	1
Fluency Flow of words. Judge length and quantity of pauses and use of language.	5	4	3	2	1
Vocabulary Knowledge of words needed to communicate.	5	4	3	2	1
Grammar Knowledge of structures. Global correctness important	5	4	3	2	1
Pragmatic Function Ability to use linguistic structures appropriate for a given situation.	5	4	3	2	1