Identity & Mission

Messiah College is a Christian college of the liberal and applied arts and sciences.

The College is committed to an embracing evangelical spirit rooted in the Anabaptist, Pietist, and Wesleyan traditions of the Christian Church. Our mission is to educate men and women toward maturity of intellect, character, and Christian faith in preparation for lives of service, leadership, and reconciliation in church and society.

Campus Locations

Main Campus—Scenic 400-acre suburban campus located in Grantham, Pa., 12 miles southwest of the state capital, Harrisburg—providing easy access to urban centers such as Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Philadelphia Campus—In 1968, Messiah College launched a satellite campus in inner-city Philadelphia, affiliated with Temple University—the first partnership of its kind between a private Christian college and a state-affiliated university.

President

Rodney J. Sawatsky, Ph.D., the seventh president of Messiah College, has served in office since 1994.

History

Originally named the Messiah Bible School and Missionary Training Home, Messiah College was founded in 1909 by the Brethren in Christ Church. In 1972, ownership by the Church was replaced by a covenantal relationship in which legal responsibility for the College was placed with a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees.

Academic Calendar

The College operates on a two-semester academic year; the second semester includes a three-week January Term in which students typically concentrate on one course or take a cross-cultural class.

Academic Structure

Messiah College’s academic program is structured into five interdisciplinary schools: the School of the Arts; the School of Education and Social Sciences; the School of Health and Natural Sciences; the School of the Humanities; and the School of Mathematics, Engineering, and Business. Each school is led by its own dean who collaborates with faculty, students, and the surrounding region to create visionary educational communities. This school structure provides an academic home for faculty and students in each discipline and facilitates academic excellence, vibrancy, and innovation.

Economic & Cultural Impact

Messiah College annually injects $46.1 million into the greater Harrisburg regional economy. The College also hosts a busy schedule of regional and national conferences, lectures, and symposiums, as well as concerts, recitals, plays, musicals, and art exhibits through its School of the Arts.

Facilities

Academic Facilities—Kline Hall of Science, Frey Hall, Jordan Science Center, The Oakes Museum, The Boyer Center, Climenhaga Fine Arts Center, and Sollenberger Sports Center. Boyer Hall, a new 95,000-square-foot academic building is now under construction.

Computer Facilities—Includes 463 computers in various academic and residence hall labs, all of which are connected to a campuswide network. Individual residence hall rooms have been equipped for a campus network/Internet connection for personal computers.

Murray Library—Paper volumes 258,097; current periodicals 1,327; microforms 114,029; audiovisual materials 14,141. The library also houses a computer lab, media center, and video production center.

Residential Facilities—The College offers eight traditional residence halls and four apartment-style residences on campus, each well equipped, controlled by a security access system, and individually wired for personal network/Internet connections. Larsen Student Union, a new 35,000-square-foot facility providing learning and leisure space for students is now under construction.

Academic Programs

The College awards both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees. The academic program includes the majors listed below, in addition to more than 50 minors. Specialized programs include extensive off-campus study, individualized majors, independent study, service-learning, internships, and a flourishing College Honors Program. Messiah students are prepared to succeed in their careers, ministry, and graduate school.
