

What's New at Murray Library?

February 2025

Mon.-Thurs., 8AM-11PM - Sat., 10AM-6PM

Fri., 8AM-5PM - Sun., 2PM-11PM

MURRAY LIBRARY

Uncover the Headlines: Global Newsstream at Murray Library

Stay up to date with the national and world news—no paywalls, no barriers! Murray Library offers access to Global Newsstream, a premier collection of newspapers from around the globe. From today's headlines to archives dating back to the 1980s, you'll find full-text access to over 800 top newspapers, including:

- The New York Times (1980-Today)
- The Wall Street Journal (1984-Today)
- The Washington Post (1987-Today)
- Central Penn Business Journal (1996-Today)
- The Guardian (1996-Today)
- El Mundo (2008-Today)
- Times of India (2006-Today)

Get the latest articles as early as 8 AM (Eastern) each day. Simply search for "newspaper," "NYT," or "Washington Post" in Primo, the library's catalog, to access these valuable resources. Whether it's for personal knowledge or academic research, keeping up with the news helps you connect to real-world events and issues from trusted sources.

Looking for historical news? Try the library's historical newspaper collections.

Available to all Messiah University users with a Messiah login. Have questions? Email library@messiah.edu. Stay informed with the library's news collection!

Looking for a Sweet Read?

Check out some of our chocolate e-resources -- Find these and more on Primo!

Chocolate and Cocoa Recipes: Including Home Made Candy Recipes / by Maria Parloa

Milton Hershey : The Chocolate King / A & E Television Networks; producer, Sammy Jackson

The Art and Craft of Chocolate: An Enthusiast's Guide to Selecting, Preparing and Enjoying Artisan Chocolate at Home / by Nathan Hodge

The Science of Chocolate / by Stephen T. Beckett

The Story of Chocolate: It Starts with Cocoa Beans / by Robin Nelson

Cocoa and Chocolate / by Walter Baker & Company

The Secrets of Chocolate: A Gourmand's Trip Through a Top Chef's Atelier / by Frankie Alarcon

Tiberius and the Chocolate Cake / by Keith Harvey

Chocolate Makes the World Go Round / VAST

The Little Chocolate Cookbook / by Sue Quinn

Exploring Civil Rights Through Artifacts: David Crane at Messiah University

On February 3rd, Messiah University will welcome David Crane, author of Making the Movement: How Activists Fought for Civil Rights with Buttons, Fliers, Pins, and Posters. Crane will speak at 7 PM in Hostetter Chapel, sharing insights into how grassroots activism shaped the Civil Rights Movement through creative and powerful visual messaging.

In addition to his presentation, Crane brings his traveling museum of artifacts, a fascinating collection of memorabilia from the era that highlights the role of design and storytelling in social justice movements.

The museum will be on display in Murray Library from January 24 through February 4, offering a unique opportunity to explore these historical treasures up close.

Additionally, Dwayne Magee from Messiah Press facilitated the printing of *A Place for All People: Introducing the National Museum of African American History and Culture* from the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

The Library Team in Action

The Murray Team is busy presenting and collaborating with educators and students. Look for them at the following events this month:

Humanities Symposium: Loving to Read: Initiating Positive Reading Habits in a Digital Childhood

Date: February 19, 7:00 PM at Murray Library

In a world where children are mastering digital devices before they even learn to read, how can we ensure that reading remains a crucial skill for success in both school and life? Join us for an insightful panel discussion about fostering a love of reading in the digital age. A parent, student, and librarians will share their personal experiences navigating the challenges and joys of helping children build their identities as readers in a world full of screens.

Speakers: Dr. Sarah Fischer (Education Dept), Librarian Sarah Myers, Library Director Janet Vogel, and Reading Specialist Emily Reed

Lancaster Learns: From Cognitive Overload to Practical Engagement in First-Year Seminar Information Literacy Session

Date: February 28, St. Joseph's University – Lancaster

Speakers: Librarians Beth Transue, Sarah Myers, and Liz Kielley

Participants will be encouraged to discuss students' experiences with cognitive overload and consider ways to reduce that overload in course design. The librarians will share their evidence-based practices on reducing cognitive load in First Year courses. Insights will be based on their upcoming book chapter in "From Chaos to Order."

Get Your Bingo On - February 7

Get ready for a fun-filled evening on Friday, February 7, as we celebrate the Campus Race to Zero Waste with Bingo Night! For the 4th year in a row, Murray Library is teaming up with the Office of Sustainability to host this exciting event. Join us for a chance to win awesome prizes while playing bingo with handmade bingo cards! We'll also have snacks and drinks with all compostable elements to be eco-friendly. Doors open at 6:45 PM, and the bingo will begin at 7 PM. Open to the entire MU community, so bring your friends and family to play!

Save the date: Wednesday, April 9th is The Living Library: Many stories, One Community, where Messiah students, faculty and staff become open books, sharing their personal stories with readers. The Living Library is designed to build a positive framework for conversations that can challenge stereotypes and prejudices through dialogue. The Living Library is a place where real people are on loan to readers.

Do you have a story to share? Please consider participating as a “book” in the Living Library @ the Murray Library. As a living book, you would be sharing your story with others (small group – less than 10 people) in the Messiah University community in a moderated 25 minute session. Please complete the application to be a book no later than Friday, March 7.

Celebrating our Library Student Workers’ Digital History Projects

We are excited to highlight the exceptional work of three of our library student workers who recently participated in Dr. David Pettegrew’s Digital History fall course. As part of this course, they helped digitize historical documents and developed digital projects that delved into themes of historical reconciliation, restoration, and justice in Pennsylvania’s capital region. Their work is an important contribution to preserving and sharing the history of Harrisburg and beyond. Their final StoryMaps projects are linked below.

Maddie Graham, a sophomore majoring in Public History and minoring in Art History, explored the life and legacy of Judge Genevieve Blatt, a prominent Pennsylvanian politician.

Emmy Varner, a senior majoring in Public History and minoring in Creative Writing and Education, focused on the submissions that tell the story of Pennsylvania’s state quarter, capturing the symbolism and history behind its design and meaning.

Phoebe Lemin, a December 2024 graduate with a Public History major with an Art History minor, worked on the life and contributions of Mira Lloyd Dock, a key figure in the City Beautiful Movement in Harrisburg.

The course gave these students the opportunity to digitize original sources, visit local archives, write blog posts, and develop Story Maps to showcase their work. Phoebe shared, “Just knowing that I have digitized sources that no one else has seen online is fascinating to me as I never would have imagined that I would be capable of digitizing documents for my own website.” Their research was supported by secondary sources, many of which were Murray Library resources like books, digitized newspapers, and journal articles from The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography and Pennsylvania History: A Journal of Mid-Atlantic Studies.

We are proud of Maddie, Emmy, and Phoebe for their hard work, creativity, and dedication. Their contributions not only enrich online access to digital collections but also help bring important local history to the fingertips of the community. We appreciate their curiosity and the thoughtful ways they engage with history and bring this energy to our library team. You can follow along future work of Digital Harrisburg by subscribing to their blog: <https://digitalharrisburg.com/blog/>

Maddie Graham

Emmy Varner

Phoebe Lemin

Cite it Right with the Updated Chicago Citation Style

The Chicago Manual of Style has released its 18th edition, bringing several important updates and clarifications for academic writing. Key changes include:

- Page Range in an Edited Book - The page range for a cited chapter in an edited book is no longer required in a bibliography (page range is still required for journal articles).
- Place of Publication for Books - A place of publication is no longer required in citations of books.
- Ibid. - Chicago recommends a shortened citation instead of “ibid.”
- Journal Article Dates - Only include the publication year, a month or season can now usually be omitted in citations of journal articles.
- Shortened URLs – Do not use TinyURL or Bitly to shorten URLs. Retain domain names.
- Citing AI Generated Content - See new guidance on citing AI-generated content.

The 18th edition is now available at the library, both in print and online. We encourage educators, students, and staff to explore the latest updates to ensure accurate, consistent citation and formatting in your work. As always, when using the pre-formatted citation option in Primo or any databases, double check the accuracy of your citation. When in doubt, ask a librarian at library@messiah.edu

Trivia Night Recap

The Murray Library recently hosted a wildly successful Trivia Night on Friday, January 24. It was an evening filled with intellectual camaraderie, fierce competition, and, of course, a whole lot of fun! The event was a hit, thanks to the exceptional efforts of library colleagues who worked diligently to make it all happen: Jenny, Rebecca, Tracy, Sarah, Liz, Beth, Rachael, and Janet.

The highlight of the evening was the overwhelming enthusiasm from our students. We had record breaking attendance! We were thrilled to see 29 teams of 2-6 players each, which brought our total to an astounding 137 attendees! We also enjoyed the wonderfully creative team names including 2B or Not 2B, Smartinis, and Not Using ChatGPT.

The trivia questions included a diverse range of topics that challenged participants to summon their knowledge from all corners of academia and life. From science to pop culture to music to Messiah University history, many of the quizzers couldn't be easily stumped. The Office of Sustainability even provided a question about campus recycling.

We are pleased to announce the top three teams that emerged victorious:

1. First Place: Quizina Aguelara Rises: Zoe White, Anna Clement, Levi Leigey, Brooke Lindsell, Kelsey Waardenburg, Leah Kreider
2. Second Place: RIP Kaylie, She's not Dead, She just Couldn't Come: Becca Smith, Alayna Regitz, Natalie Billet, Marc Sauder, Connor Milton
3. Third Place: 5 Guys Burgers and Fries: Owen Shank, Jake Anzulewicz, Todd Feil, Owen Miller, Joe Lamberton

Congratulations to our winners, and a round of applause for all the teams who participated. The library plans many enriching and educational activities for students and the Messiah community. Please check out our upcoming events.

