

QuEST Religion

Why study Religion?

To reflect on ethical and moral values.

To realize the complex relationship between religion and
culture locally,
nationally, and
globally

To encounter racial,
ethnic, cultural,
religious, and national diversity

To learn how religions shape
individual
identity and self-
understanding

To recognize the
many ways religion
can be studied:
historically,
sociologically, and
more.

Resources

The Case for Religious Studies

[The Five Major
World Religions](#)

[PEW Religious
Landscape Study](#)