Peer tutoring

Both individual and group tutoring in a number of subjects is offered to all Messiah undergraduate students, free of charge.

- Select location and time upon scheduling an appointment.
- Sign-ups available by searching "peer tutoring" on FalconLink.
- Questions? Contact Amy Slody, director of peer tutoring, at aslody@messiah.edu.

Physics course review sessions

These sessions are primarily to review assigned homework and concepts covered in lecture. A teaching assistant is available to answer questions and review assigned problem sets.

- Available for PHYS201, PHYS202, PHYS211, PHYS212
- Location and time varies by class. Ask instructor for details.
- No sign-up required.
- Questions? Contact your course instructor.

Supplemental Instruction (SI)

Supplemental instruction is a program that targets "high risk courses" rather than "high risk students." The SI review sessions are interactive and students acquire effective study strategies as they review course material and prepare for tests using mock exams. Statistical data suggest that students who attend SI sessions earn 1/2 to a full letter grade higher than those who choose not to attend.

- Available for BIOL185, CHEM103, CHEM204, CHEM309, MATH211, NURS310.
- Location and time varies by instructor. Schedule can be found at messiah.edu > academics > academic support > supplemental instruction.
- No sign-up required.
- Questions? Contact Kristin Runyon, coordinator for SI, at KRunyon@messiah.edu.

Writing Center

The Writing Center is a free service that hopes to help students become better writers. Our tutors work individually with students to help them write and revise their own papers. We accept papers at any stage of the writing process, from brainstorming to final revisions. No matter what you're writing, we're here to help!

- Available for all undergrad students, all courses.
- Location and time: Writing Center in Murray Library, times available when signing up.
- Schedule an appointment by searching "Writing Center" on FalconLink.
- Questions? Contact writingcenter@messiah.edu.
