

Intercom deadline

The deadline for each issue of the Intercom is 4 P.M. Tuesday. To help us ensure the speed and accuracy of production, please use the Intercom e-mail address, intercom@messiah.edu, or the user-friendly submission form on the Intercom website at www.messiah.edu/intercom/submit.html to send in information. If you have questions, please call the office of marketing and public relations at ext. 7342.

Remembering one another

Thank you so much for the prayers, support and beautiful flowers upon the birth of our daughter, Kirah Miniya Jones.

— Shakir and Monica Jones, grants coordinator

Elisa and Eric Seibert, department of biblical and religious studies, are happy to announce the safe arrival of a beautiful baby girl, Rebecca Anne Seibert, on May 15. She weighed 8 lbs., 12.4 oz., and was 20 in.. She came quickly, about an hour after arriving at the hospital. Many thanks to the College community for the lovely flowers sent upon her arrival. We appreciate your prayers in these early days of adjustment.

Campus people

Messiah College welcomes the following new employee: Cerissa Kimball, campus events worker I. Welcome to the community!

The office of conference services is pleased to announce that Randy Heintzelman will be assuming the position of room reservationist. Randy has been an employee of the college since 1996 and has worked in several different campus departments. Randy will start his new role in the afternoons only until the end of the June when he will move into his new position full-time. Please join us in congratulating Randy in this new position!

I am pleased to announce that Dorca Kisare-Ressler has accepted the position of director of international student programs within the office of multicultural programs. Dorca will be bringing experience addressing and understanding the unique issues and needs of international and “third culture” students gained through her work within the offices of international programs, multicultural affairs, and career services at various institutions. She most recently served as a study abroad advisor in Franklin and Marshall College’s office of international programs, a role in which she collaborated closely with their dean of international students. Dorca holds a master’s of science in counseling and college student personnel from Shippensburg University, and completed her undergraduate work in psychology at Millersville University. I want to thank the search committee for their flexibility, their time, and their dedication. Dorca will begin her work on campus after Tuesday, July 1. We ask you to join us in warmly welcoming Dorca into our community at Messiah College.

— Lawrence A. Q. Burnley, associate dean for multicultural programs and special assistant to the provost for diversity affairs

Larry M. Lake, associate professor of writing, was recently appointed by the Society for Economic Botany to an international review panel to judge applications for the prestigious ethnobotany research grant named in memory of Richard Evans Schultes, legendary Harvard ethnobotanist. Larry's studies in ethnobotany have included collaborations with scholars at Leiden University and the University of Hawaii. This fall, Larry will teach his science, technology, and the world course "Plants and People" for the 12th time here at Messiah College.

Cynthia A. Wells, Boyer Fellow, delivered the commencement address for the graduate and adult commencement ceremony at Geneva College on May 15. Her address was titled "Manifestations for the Common Good." Also, Wells along with Elizabeth Whitt, University of Iowa; Becki Elkins Nesheim, Cornell College; Melanie Guentzel, St. Cloud State University; Angela Kellogg, University of Wisconsin; and William McDonald, Presbyterian College, had a research article published in the May/June 2008 volume of the "Journal of College Student Development." The article "Principles of Good Practice for Academic and Student Affairs Partnership Programs" is based on research funded by a FIPSE grant awarded to The Ernest L. Boyer Center.

Changes in Messiah's website staff

Matt Brandt's tenure as the temporary web content manager for the office of marketing and public relations ended on May 30. During the time Matt served the College in this temporary role, he was instrumental in helping to bring several new web initiatives to completion and we are appreciative of his many contributions.

Marketing and public relations is currently in the process of bringing its permanent web staff onboard (a web services manager and web content editor) but do not expect the team to be fully in place until late June. Until then, any web projects currently in progress will be placed on brief, temporary hold. However, we will resume work on these projects as quickly as possible after the new web team is up and running. During this interim period, emergency/urgent web needs still will be addressed as quickly as possible and less urgent needs will be attended to as we are able. General questions about the website should be directed to Kim Christen, assistant for the office of marketing and public relations, at ext. 7326 or kchriste@messiah.edu. Specific web project questions and any urgent requests should be directed to Deb Sauders, director of print and web communications, at ext. 2350 or dsauders@messiah.edu. Thanks for your patience during this transitional time in our office.

Messiah launches new marketing initiative

Introducing StoryLink – an easy-to-access collection of student, faculty, and alumni profiles that highlight the unique distinctives of a Messiah College academic experience. Within the StoryLink website (<http://storylink.messiah.edu/> or from the Messiah homepage), users will find compelling human-interest vignettes that strengthen Messiah College's bond as a community, further define our identity and purpose, and confirm the importance of our work.

CONNECT READ SHARE is the simple strategy for StoryLink. By regularly connecting to the site, reading stories of interest, and sharing what you've learned with others, you will:

- inspire prospective students to be a part of Messiah College;
- spur friends of the College to get involved in the Messiah community;
- encourage others to share what they know about the College; and
- start a chain of communication that has the potential to change lives.

The office of marketing and public relations is again producing the Highlights brochure to promote the public events occurring on campus during the fall semester. In an effort to bring more people to campus, we will mail the brochure to more than 5,000 homes in the community in early September. To ensure your public event is included, i.e. a concert, recital, play, lecture, conference, performance or any other event at which you would welcome the general public, please send the event, date, time, place, contact name, admission charge (if any), and phone number to Kim Christen kchriste@messiah.edu no later than Friday, July 18.

If your events are unable to be finalized by that date, please forward them to marketing and public relations as soon as they are confirmed. Although we will be unable to include them in the brochure, we will still be able to advertise them on our public events line on campus as well as through news releases. These brochures have been very well received in the past and demand for them has been high, both on and off campus. If you would like to order a quantity for your own department's use, please call Kim Christen at ext. 7326. There will be a charge of $12 per 100 brochures (12 cents per copy) to cover the additional printing costs.

Discount Knoebels tickets available

Discounted Knoebels tickets are now available. During May and June, Messiah College employees and friends, current students, and alumni may purchase $20 books of ride tickets for $18. In addition to discounting the tickets for these groups, Knoebels will also donate $2 to Messiah's human development and family science (HDFS) department's student professional development endowment fund for every book purchased. Tickets are good from year to year and do not need to be spent this year. As the largest free admission amusement park in the United States, Knoebels is affordable family fun! Check it out for yourself at www.knoebels.com. If you are interested in purchasing tickets, contact Tonya Baker, administrative assistant for the social sciences, at ext. 7050. More information and other purchasing options can be found on the attachment at the end of this "Intercom."

Employee discount program survey available

The 2008 Employee Discount Program Survey is now available. This is your chance to make your voice heard. Tell us what you think about the program that provides you with opportunities to save at your favorite local restaurants, retail stores, and service providers – what you like, what you don't like, what you would like to see in the future. The survey can be found in MC Square by going to the purchasing department's channel and clicking on the link that says "2008 Survey for Employee Discount Program" or www2.messiah.edu/adeptiv/survey/object.asp?ID=Yc9Jh9N7bd69DC0edEWX. A mass e-mail to Messiah employees has also been sent, and the survey can be accessed by clicking the link in the e-mail. Questions about the survey or the Employee Discount Program can be directed to John Cooker, director of purchasing services, at ext. 6010 or Allison Petry at ext. 3130 or 7275. And remember to check out www.messiah.edu/discounts for a list of current Messiah College employee discounts and businesses, all of which make Messiah College an even better place to work!

Postal services tip

Did you know that your department postage account number should be applied to the upper left corner of the envelope above the return address when having it metered in the Campus Post Office? If you put it in the upper right corner, it will interfere with the USPS meter markings required for mailing.
