Remembering one another

Maggie Lake, daughter of Mary Beth and Larry Lake, professor of English, was seriously injured in an accident on June 23 when a van in which she was a passenger was struck by another vehicle. She was released from the hospital on June 25, but recuperation will take some time. Cards may be sent to her at home 1702 Lincoln Street, Camp Hill, PA 17011.

Campus people

Mary Ann Hollinger, dean of external programs and assistant professor of family science, Debra Berke, professor of family science and women's studies, and Raeann Hamon, distinguished professor of family science and gerontology, recently attended the Family Science Association's Teaching Family Science Conference in Prince Edward Island, Canada. Hollinger presented "Diversity, Religion, and Pedagogy: A Comprehensive Integration of Religion into the Family Science Curriculum;" Berke and Hamon co-presented "Icebreakers for Diverse Audiences." Berke and Hamon also participated in a panel symposium titled "Influences on My Teaching: Presentations and Discussions of a Variety of Teaching Resources," where Berke talked about "My Freshman Year" and Hamon reviewed the impact of "What the Best College Teachers Do."

The office of alumni and parent relations announces that Paula Hunsberger has resigned her position as assistant director in order to stay home full-time and care for newborn baby, Carina. Our appreciation goes to Hunsberger for coordinating Homecoming weekends, supporting nearly fifty class reunion committees, providing leadership to several student-alumni programs, as well as other duties during her four years of service.

We are pleased to announce that Michelle Blackford, former coordinator for regional leadership programs in the office of alumni and parent relations, has been named interim assistant director for alumni and parent relations through June 2008. Blackford brings proven experience working with Messiah constituents, volunteers and event planning to this role. If you have any questions or inquiries specifically regarding Homecoming activities, please contact Blackford at ext. 5252 or e-mail mblackfo@messiah.edu. Hunsberger will continue temporarily on a part-time basis to assist in orientation and transition efforts. The search proceeds for a new director of alumni and parent relations. If you know any persons who would make excellent candidates, please forward names directly to Barry Goodling, vice president for advancement.

— Randy Ness, director of alumni and parent relations

Congratulations to Ellen Shaffer, visit coordinator for office of admissions, and Lucas Sheaffer, admissions counselor, for being members of the fourth place team in the annual NACCAP Games.

On June 12, Dwayne Keiffer, assistant director of the Career Center for Vocation and Development, presented a workshop for the PA Campus Compact at the Allenberry Playhouse. During the presentation Keiffer addressed topics related to the job search, resume writing, salary negotiations, and transitional issues for young professionals.

Two area businesses offer discounts through employee discount program

Here is one of Messiah's best-kept secrets! If you're hungry for good food but your date is cheap, then check out Gullifty's Restaurant on Carlisle Road in Camp Hill. Because you are "cool" enough to work here at Messiah College, Gullifty's owner, Ike, would like to give you a 10 percent discount off your food bill when you dine in at the delicious restaurant. And just in case your date is so cheap that he or she won't even buy you flowers, well, guess what? Check out any location of Royer's Flowers for 10 percent off any cash and carry. Now, there are no excuses. Dinner and flowers that even the cheapest date can afford. Just remember to present your Messiah College employee ID, and you are in for a romantic night!

The department of facility services introduces new web page
