Campus people

Messiah College welcomes the following new employees: Barbara Dearing, manager of gift processing; Heather J. Greer, head women's lacrosse coach/director of recreational sports; Mary Megan Jones, admissions counselor; Amber M. Ruffo, residence director, Witmer Hall; Kristin A. Siha, admissions coordinator; Jenell Williams Paris, professor of sociology and anthropology; and Wendell Witter, director of Issachar's Loft (CCO staff). Welcome to the community!

Cindy Burger, director for the department of safety and dispatch services, was elected director-at-large at the 54th annual Northeast Colleges and Universities Security Association (NECUSA) conference in June. The NECUSA organization is two-fold: to deliver cost-effective, high quality professional development opportunities within the northeast region, and to create opportunities for networking with colleagues, both in person and electronically, for those who serve in the safety field on college campuses and universities. Cindy will serve a three-year term sitting on the board of directors and will be responsible for disseminating awards and recognitions to membership institutions for outstanding service performed by officers in their line of duty.

I am excited to announce that Barbara Dearing has accepted the position of manager of gift processing. Dearing has many years of training experience as a French teacher for the Huntingdon High School as well as two years of computer science teaching in the middle school. She has also arranged and participated in numerous trips to both Canada and France for both students and colleagues. Finally, she brings her cashiering and student accounts experience from Drew University. Barbara will be starting on July 26. Please join me in welcoming Barbara to the office of development.

Also, the office of development wishes Linn Marie Worrall the best in the start of her "grand adventure." Linn's last day will be Wednesday, Aug. 1.

— Susan Jaycox, director of prospect management

Several changes have occurred over the summer in the department of athletics. Bryan Engle has been named head baseball coach. He will continue with his responsibilities as assistant men's basketball coach but is giving up duties as aquatics director. In the interim, Justin Rodkey will be serving as aquatics director through December. Also, Heather Greer has been selected as head women's lacrosse coach/director of recreational sports. Finally, Julie Grier will serve as athletic trainer during the 2007-08 school year.

— Jerry Chaplin, director of athletics

Karl Oberholser, professor of chemistry, recently attended a Gordon Research Conference (GRC) on Visualization in Science and Education during which he presented a poster on his use of protein explorer and molslides in biochemistry I and II. GRC's are among the premier international scientific meetings, and attendees are chosen by submitting an application.

Opportunity to participate in research study

The human performance lab is conducting a study on how individuals utilize energy while walking. We are looking for 20 to 30 female volunteers to participate in this phase of the study. Requirements: subjects must be between the ages of 20 to 65, capable of walking on a treadmill for 10 to 15 minutes, and able to attend three different appointments. If you are interested or know of anyone who might be interested, please contact Scott Kieffer, department of health and human performance, at kieffer@messiah.edu.

Library catalog unavailable July 30

The library system software is being updated on Monday, July 30. This will mean that for several hours, the catalog will be unavailable and circulation will be using paper forms to check out materials. Access to all other library software and databases will be unaffected by the upgrade. The library system should be up and running by Monday evening, but please be patient as the graphical interface on the library catalog will need additional work to get back to its familiar look.

The business office adjusts hours on Aug. 1

The business office and finance office have a retreat scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 1. The business counter will close at 10:15 a.m. and reopen at 1:30 p.m.

Opportunity available for copier use training

If you are currently using your copier as a printer, and would like to know how to print so that it is secure and only you see your prints, training is available for "Private print". Please send an e-mail to Bill Althoff, manager of printing and postal services, at balthoff@messiah.edu so that you can be notified of the next training opportunity. Additionally, if you have new employees in your area and would like someone to train them on general copier use, please also contact Bill Althoff to arrange a training time.

Procedure outlined for early arrival students

New students arrive on Thursday, Aug. 30 and returning students arrive to campus on Saturday, Sept. 1. If you are sponsoring students to return before those dates, please contact the office of residence life and housing at earlyarrivals@messiah.edu with their names, return dates, and your account number (if you are paying for them to eat meals on campus). Please submit any names or changes to previously submitted lists by Wednesday, Aug. 1. If you have any questions, please contact Rhonda Good, director of housing, at ext. 7291.
