Intercom deadline

The deadline for each issue of the Intercom is 4 P.M. Tuesday. To help us ensure the speed and accuracy of production, please use the Intercom e-mail address, intercom@messiah.edu, or the user-friendly submission form on the Intercom website at www.messiah.edu/intercom/submit.html to send in information. If you have questions, please call the office of marketing and public relations at ext. 7342.

Remembering one another

A big thank you to all of you who went to a lot of effort to make my last day at Messiah a most memorable and enjoyable one. The scrapbook and the impressive CD will be crucial in keeping the good memories alive. Thanks again to all for the wonderful send-off.

— Glen Raser

Campus people

It is with great regret that the department of safety and dispatch services announces that Angie Gaido has resigned her position as safety officer in order to pursue a new venture in her life. Angie has been with the department for eight years and will be missed by many on campus as she was very involved with students, staff, and outside vendors. Please join us in showing Angie our appreciation by stopping by for a farewell gathering on Monday, Oct. 15 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in Larsen Student Union, room 237. Light refreshments will be served.

— Cindy Burger, director of safety and dispatch services

Bryan Bell to present lecture on Oct. 23

On Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m., the department of visual arts will host a lecture and reception with Bryan Bell, editor of “Good Deeds Good Design: Community Service Through Architecture.” Bell founded Design Corps, a nonprofit architecture firm based in Raleigh, N.C. in 1991. In 1995 Bell started the Design Corps Fellowship program, which allows recent graduates to design for the underserved. He has taught community design/building at three architecture schools, including 12 projects in the Auburn Rural Studio from 1998 to 2000. In 2003, work by Design Corps was included in the Smithsonian’s Cooper-Hewitt Design Triennial exhibit.

Don't get left out...send in your spring public events

The office of marketing and public relations is again producing the highlights brochure to promote the public events occurring on campus during the spring semester. In an effort to bring more people to campus, we will mail the brochure to more than 5,000 homes in the community in early January. To ensure your public event is included, i.e. a concert, recital, play, lecture, conference, performance or any other event at which you would welcome the general public, please send the event, date, time, place, contact name, admission charge (if any), and phone number to Kim Christen kchrste@messiah.edu no later than Friday, Nov. 2.

If your events are unable to be finalized by that date, please forward them to marketing and public relations as soon as they are confirmed. Although we will be unable to include them in the brochure, we will still be able to advertise them on our public events line on campus as well as through news releases and public service announcements. These brochures have been very well received in the past and demand for them has been high, both on and off campus. If you would like to order a quantity for your own department's use, please call Kim Christen at ext. 7326. There will be a charge of $12 per 100 brochures (12 cents per copy) to cover the additional printing costs.

Faculty services sets J-term and Spring 2008 work submission deadlines

With the start of the new semester right around the corner, faculty services would like to remind the faculty that it's not too early to begin looking ahead. Attached at the end of this "Intercom" are the work submission deadlines that have been set for J-Term and Spring 2008 semester. Thank you in advance for your cooperation. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Diane Hunsinger, faculty services supervisor, at ext. 3895.

Important reminders for safety on campus

The department of safety wishes to remind all members of the campus community to take precautions regarding your safety. Among those precautions are to walk in pairs or groups, walk in well-lit areas, wear brightly colored clothing if walking at nighttime, avoid shortcuts, and be considerate of vehicular traffic. When walking off campus, please remember that you must walk on the side of the roadway as vehicles have the right of way. Also, be considerate of our neighbors in the community; keep your voices to a minimum; and be respectful of their property. Feel free to use the campus safety escort service for an escort; this service is provided from dusk to dawn. It is also important that you are aware of the locations of the emergency phones located throughout campus. The locations of these emergency telephones is available by visiting www.messiah.edu/offices/safety/phones.html. Questions can be referred to the department of safety and dispatch services at ext. 6005.

The Messiah College Honors Program presents:
A two-part series by noted author and University of Texas professor,
Dr. J. Budziszewski

“The Natural Laws of Sex”

Wednesday, October 24, 7:00—8:30 p.m. in Hostetter Chapel

&

“The Revenge of Conscience”

Thursday, October 25, 7:00—8:30 p.m. in Frey 110

Alternate Chapel Credit will be given for each session.

J. Budziszewski (Ph.D. Yale, 1981), a Professor in the Departments of Government and Philosophy, University of Texas at Austin, is a nationally known authority on the Natural Law, which St. Paul called the law "written on the heart." He is especially interested in the suppression of moral knowledge: On what goes wrong in a soul or in a society when we pretend to ourselves that we don't know what we really do.

Dr. Budziszewski is the author of eight scholarly books, notably What We Can't Not Know: A Guide (2003), Evangelicals in the Public Square (2006), and the Christianity Today award winning Written on the Heart: The Case for Natural Law (1997). He has also written two books for young people, How to Stay Christian in College and Ask Me Anything. Messiah students may be more familiar with his alter-ego, the legendary Professor Theophilus of his monthly online column "Office Hours" at www.TrueU.org.

Messiah College, a nationally recognized Christian college of the liberal and applied arts and sciences, located in south-central Pennsylvania, is recruiting for the following full-time, term-tenure track positions available for 2008-2009. Ph.D. and teaching experience preferred. Evidence of strong commitment to teaching and ongoing scholarly activity is expected. All candidates must be strongly committed to the educational mission of the College to educate students toward maturity of intellect, character, and Christian faith in preparation for lives of service, leadership, and reconciliation.
