

Women's HISTORY MONTH

Sunday, March 7

International Women's Day Celebration

Celebrate International Women's Day with the movie "Bend it like Beckham." After the film, there will be a reception and panel discussion with mother-daughter couples from various parts of the world. They will share their stories and how history and culture is passed from generation to generation.

2:00-5:00 p.m.

Parmer Cinema and Boyer Atrium

Tuesday, March 9

Earth Democracy: Women Working to Create a Sustainable Earth

Earth Democracy, as said by environmental activist Vandana Shiva is "an ancient worldview and an emergent political movement for peace, justice, and sustainability." In celebration of Women's History Month and the International Women's Day, we will explore the topic of ecofeminism. Sarah Brylinsky, sustainability education coordinator from Dickinson College, will lead us in a workshop about women as earth protectors, environmental leaders, and sustainability thinkers in conjunction with their feminist perspectives.

7:00-8:30 p.m.

Boyer 131

Co-sponsored by Dickinson College Center for Environmental and Sustainability Education and Messiah College's Office of Multicultural Programs

Thursday, March 25

Share Her Story

Listen to Dr. Jean Corey and Dr. Gladys Robalino speak about female writers. Hear about their everyday lives and struggles. Then, learn how to use the spoken word to express yourself. After this one-hour introduction, visit the South Side Café to share your story and to hear others speak as well.

7:00 p.m.

Mountain View Classroom

8:00-9:30 p.m.

South Side Café

Co-sponsored by La Alianza Latina

Tuesday, March 30

Let's Get Serious: Mind, Body, & Soul

Join us as we talk about body image issues and how it affects us as women. The setting will be relaxing with pampering lotions, fun snacks, and thought-provoking discussion.

7:00-8:30 p.m.

LINC House (above the soccer field)

Co-sponsored by the Multicultural Council and SNAC

Mission

To provide a forum where we can learn about the (her)story in the U.S. and add different perspectives to the retelling of our past. This month will incorporate film, cultural celebrations, and speakers that will engage the community on the existing realities of women in the U.S. and across the world.

Sponsored by The Office of Multicultural Programs