5.7.3 The Election Process for Elected Positions. These policies apply to all elections under the jurisdiction of the Community of Educators or the Ranked Faculty Meeting.

5.7.3.1 Withdrawing Names from Consideration. In November, each member of the Community of Educators will receive an electronic form listing open positions for the upcoming year. Any Community of Educators member wishing to withdraw his/her name from consideration for certain elected positions may indicate this on the form.

- a. If a person does not complete the electronic form by the specified date, the assumption will be that he/she is willing to serve in any of the elected positions listed for which he/she is eligible.
- b. Once the specified date has passed, persons will not be allowed to withdraw their names from the electoral process for these elected positions.
- c. All ranked faculty are eligible and must let their names stand for the Term Tenure and Promotion Committee election with the exception of the Community of Educators Senate Vice Chair, Community of Educators Vice Chair elect, Ranked Faculty Meeting Chair, Ranked Faculty Meeting Vice Chair, Ranked Faculty Meeting Vice Chair elect and continuing members of the Term Tenure and Promotion Committee. All other ranked faculty members will not be allowed to withdraw their names from the election process for membership on the Term Tenure and Promotion Committee without the approval of the Provost. If a ranked faculty member serving in an elected position whose term is continuing is elected to the Term Tenure and Promotion Committee, his/her name will be removed from the other elected position and replaced via election.

5.7.3.2 Nominating Slate. Upon receiving these faculty responses, the Office of the Provost will prepare nominating slates for each election. These nominating slates will consist of all eligible Community of Educators members who have not withdrawn their names from consideration. Moreover, after an election is complete, the person elected will be automatically withdrawn from the nominating ballots of subsequent elections.

5.7.3.3 Order of Elections. Once the nominating slates have been set, the Office of the Provost will proceed in accordance with the established order of elections.

5.7.3.4 Nominating Ballots. Each election will begin with a nominating ballot. On this ballot, each eligible voter may cast a nominating vote for as many as three persons whose names appear on the nominating slate for the office or position(s) being elected.

5.7.3.5 Election Slates. Once the nominating ballot for a given position has been completed and the nominations have been tallied, the Office of the Provost will prepare an election slate for that position.

- a. The election slates for the positions of Community of Educators Vice Chair, Ranked Faculty Vice Chair, Ranked Faculty Secretary, and Curriculum Committee member shall consist of the six persons who received the most nominations.
- b. The elections for Community of Educators Senators shall consist of the following:
 - 1. the six persons who received the most nominations if two individuals are to be elected.
 - 2. the three persons who received the most nominations if one individual is to be elected.
- c. The election slates for the positions on the Academic Council, Cocurricular Education Council, Ranked Faculty Affairs Committee, Term Tenure and Promotion Committee and Scholarship and Development Committee shall consist of the three persons who received the most nominations.
- d. Ties on the nomination ballot will be resolved by either adding to or subtracting from the number of nominees—depending on the size of the eligibility pool. In all the cases, the size of the final election slate will be no lower than three and no larger than six.

5.7.3.6 Election Ballots and Determination of Winner. After the election slate for a given election has been determined, the Office of the Provost shall conduct an election ballot using the “Instant Runoff Voting” method. Under the Instant Runoff Voting method, a voter ranks the candidates on the ballot from his/her first choice to his/her last choice. A tallying process then “transfers” voter support from the last-place candidate(s) to the remaining candidates, until one candidate emerges with a majority. In the event of a tie, a two-way runoff election will be conducted.

5.7.3.7 Once an election is completed for a given position, and the winner has been identified, the Office of the Provost will conduct a nominating ballot for the next election. The election for that position will then proceed as previously stated.

5.7.4 Resigning from Elected Positions. These policies apply to all elections under the jurisdiction of both the Community of Educators and the Ranked Faculty Meeting.

5.7.4.1 Sabbaticals and Leaves. Any Community of Educators member serving in an elected position must resign from that position if, due to sabbatical or leave, he/she is unable to fulfill the duties of that position for a period longer than one full semester.

5.7.4.2 Scholarship Chairs. Any ranked faculty member serving in an elected position shall be permitted to resign from that position (but is not required to do so) if he/she is appointed to a Scholarship Chair.

5.7.4.3 Other Reasons for Resignations. Any Community of Educators member wishing to resign from any elected position for reasons other than the ones listed above must secure permission to do so from the Provost.

5.7.5 Unexpired Terms and Temporarily Vacated Positions. These policies apply to all elections under the jurisdiction of the Community of Educators or the Ranked Faculty Meeting. Whenever policy calls for an elected replacement for a vacated

Senate position, the person elected will serve the remainder of the term of the vacated position.

5.7.5.1 Community of Educators Vice Chair. Since the Community of Educators Vice Chair is elected to a two-year term, it is expected that he/she will complete this term, transitioning from Vice Chair to Chair in the second year. Should intervening circumstances prevent the Vice Chair from fulfilling the duties of the office or from completing the first year of the term, the Chair should be promptly notified.

- a. If the position of Vice Chair is or will be vacated for one semester or less (e.g., due to a one-semester sabbatical or leave of absence), members of the Steering Committee will assume the duties of the Vice Chair on an as-needed basis until the elected Vice Chair can resume his/her duties.
- b. If the position of Community of Educators Vice Chair is or will be vacated for a period longer than one full semester (e.g., due to resignation or termination from the College; taking on an administrative assignment that would preclude eligibility for Senate positions; a two-semester sabbatical or other leave of absence), the educator serving as Vice Chair must resign from that position and a special election shall be conducted, according to the criteria in 5.7.1.1, to fill the position of Community of Educators Vice Chair. The educator who is elected Vice Chair of the Community of Educators by special election, assumes the position of Vice Chair immediately and then subsequently becomes the Community of Educators Chair the following academic year.

5.7.5.2 Community of Educators Chair. Should intervening circumstances prevent the Chair from fulfilling the duties of the office or from completing the second year of the elected term, the Vice Chair should be promptly notified.

- a. If the position of Community of Educators Chair is or will be vacated for one semester or less (e.g., due to a one-semester sabbatical or leave of absence) the Community of Educators Vice Chair shall assume the functions of Community of Educators Chair and members of the Steering Committee will assume the duties of the Vice Chair on an as-needed basis until the elected Chair and Vice Chair can resume their duties. Despite assuming the Chair's functions for as long as one semester, the Community of Educators Vice Chair shall become the Community of Educators Chair the following academic year.
- b. If the position of Community of Educators Chair is or will be vacated for a period longer than one full semester (e.g., due to resignation or termination from the College; taking on an administrative assignment that would preclude eligibility for Senate positions; a two-semester sabbatical or other leave of absence), the Community of Educators Vice Chair shall assume the position of Community of Educators Chair and a special election shall be conducted, according to the criteria in Section 5.7.1.1, to fill the position of Community of Educators Vice Chair. The educator who is elected Vice Chair of the Community of Educators by special election, assumes the position of Vice Chair immediately and then subsequently becomes the Community of Educators Chair the following academic year.

5.7.5.3 Community of Educators Senators. When a continuing Community of Educators Senator is elected Community of Educators Vice Chair, an election will be conducted to replace the vacated position. The newly elected senator will serve the remainder of the term.

5.7.5.4

Other Elected Positions

- a. When an elected position is vacated for the remainder of a term (via resignation, termination from the College, etc.), and the remainder of that term is more than one full semester, the Office of the Provost will conduct a special election to complete that term.
- b. When an elected position is vacated for the remainder of a term (via resignation, termination at the College, etc.), and the remainder of that term is one semester or less, a replacement to complete that term will be appointed from eligible candidates by the following groups: Ranked Faculty committees—Ranked Faculty Affairs Committee; Community of Educators positions—Community of Educators Senate Steering Committee. No Community of Educators member will be required to accept an assignment to complete another person's term.
- c. When an elected position is vacated temporarily (for one semester or less), the Office of the Provost will select a temporary replacement among the eligible candidates. No Community of Educators member will be required to accept a temporary replacement assignment.
